2017 Budget Message

Dec. 9, 2016

The nine local government partners of the Garfield Clean Energy Collaborative have pledged to work together in 2017 to continue providing clean energy programs and services that benefit their constituents and taxpayers. By joining together, the partners are working toward energy efficiency, petroleum reduction, renewable energy and funding targets.

The 2017 budget has been prepared in accordance with generally accepted governmental accounting principles using the accrual basis of accounting. The 2017 budget reflects the same expected revenues as were contributed in 2016.

In balance, 2017 revenues are $19,000 less than in 2016, because the Colorado Energy Office grant for the Green MLS program for that amount will not be renewed for 2017. Total revenues are $305,000. Expenditures are budgeted at $310,650, using additional funds carried over from 2016, currently estimated at $15,000. The 2017 budget allows Garfield Clean Energy to provide vital clean energy services to member governments and their constituents.

Highlights of budgeted 2017 expenditures are:

- Free energy consulting services to households and businesses, targeted outreach to the community, and trainings for contractors.
- Energy consulting support to the CARE Program for income-qualified households.
- Active energy management coaching to GCE member governments.
- Display of energy use data on the Garfield Building Energy Navigator.
- Technical assistance for development of cost-effective renewable energy installations.
- Advocacy and technical assistance to build demand for alternative fuel vehicles and fueling infrastructure.
- A Ride Garfield County campaign to promote use of transit, bicycling and walking.
- Public education about clean energy through earned media, social media, presentations, booths, displays and the GCE website.
- A local power action plan outlining power generation opportunities in Garfield County.
- A continued effort to identify long-term funding sources.

The intent of the 2017 budget is to deliver an array of clean energy services and programs for households, businesses and member governments that will move Garfield County toward its 2020 energy goals.
